

ANNO QUADRAGESIMO SECUNDO

GEORGII III. REGIS.

CAP. LXXIX.

An Act to revive and continue, until the Fifth Day of April One thouſand eight hundred and four, and to amend ſeveral Acts, paſſed in the Twenty-ſeventh, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-ninth Years of His preſent Majeſty's Reign, for the more effectual Encouragement of the Britiſh Fiſheries; and to continue, until the Fourteenth Day of June One thouſand eight hundred and three, and from thence to the End of the then next Seſſion of Parliament, ſo much of an Act of the Sixth Year of the Reign of His preſent Majeſty, as relates to the prohibiting the Importation of Foreign wrought Silks and Velvets. [22d June 1802.]

WHEREAS an Act paſſed in the Twenty-ſixth Year of His preſent Majeſty's Reign, intituled, An Act for the more effectual Encouragement of the Britiſh Fiſheries, which was to continue in force for a limited Time: And whereas an Act was made in the Twenty-ſeventh Year of His preſent Majeſty's Reign, intituled, An Act to extend 26 Geo. 3. c. 81. 27 Geo. 3. c. 10.

the Provisions of an Act, made in the Twenty-sixth Year of His present Majesty's Reign, intituled, 'An Act for the more effectual Encouragement of the 'British Fisheries:' And whereas the said first recited Act, together with the Alterations and Amendments made by the said last recited Act, was further continued, for a limited Time, and amended by an Act, made in the Thirty-fifth Year of His present Majesty's Reign, intituled, An Act to continue and amend an Act, made in the Twenty-sixth Year of the Reign of His present Majesty, intituled, 'An Act for the more effectual Encouragement of the British Fisheries:' And whereas the said Acts were revived and further continued, and amended, by an Act passed in the Thirty-ninth Year of the Reign of His present Majesty: And whereas the said several Acts have expired, and it is expedient that the same should be revived and further continued for a limited Time, and amended; be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That, from and after the passing of this Act, the said several Acts, and all the Powers and Provisions therein contained, shall be, and the same are hereby revived; save and except as to such Bounties, and as to such Powers and Provisions as are by this Act excepted, or are hereby amended or altered; and shall continue in force until the Fifth Day of April One thousand eight hundred and four.

35 Geo. 3. c. 56.

39 Geo. 3. c. 100.

Recited Acts revived, except as to such Bounties and Powers as are hereby altered, and continued in force till April 5, 1804.

II. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to repeal any of the Provisions of an Act, passed in this Session of Parliament, relating, among other Things, to the discontinuing the Bounty payable on White Herrings exported, except as is herein-after specially provided in relation to the permitting the Use of Salt in the preserving of Fish.

Act not to repeal the Provisions of an Act of this Session relating to the White Herring Bounty, excepting what respects the Use of Salt.

From April 5, 1803, One Half of certain Bounties shall cease.

III. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That, from and after the Fifth Day of April One thousand eight hundred and three, One Half Part of the Bounty of Twenty Shillings per Ton, and also One Half Part of the Bounties granted by the said last mentioned Acts for every Barrel of Herrings landed from any Buss or Vessel, in respect whereof a Bounty of Twenty Shillings per Ton is granted by the said Acts, shall respectively cease and determine, and be longer payable or paid.

6 Geo. 3. c. 28.

IV. And whereas an Act was made in the Sixth Year of the Reign of His present Majesty, intituled, An Act to prohibit the Importation of Foreign wrought Silks and Velvets, for a limited Time; and for preventing unlawful Combinations of Workmen employed in the Silk Manufacture; which was to continue in force for the Term of Five Years from the Fourteenth Day of June One thousand seven hundred and sixty-six, and from thence to the End of the then next Session of Parliament; and which, by several subsequent Acts, made in the Eleventh and Seventeenth Years of the Reign of His present Majesty, was further continued until the Fourteenth Day of June One thousand seven hundred and eighty-two, and from thence to the End of the then next Session of Parliament; and which Act, so far as relates to the prohibiting the Importation of Foreign wrought Silks and Velvets, was, by Three Acts made in the Twenty-second, Twenty-ninth, and Thirty-fifth Years of the Reign of His present Majesty, further continued until the Fourteenth Day of June One thousand eight eight hundred and two, and from thence to the End of the then next Seſſion of Parliament: And whereas the ſaid Act, ſo far as relates to the prohibiting the Importation of Foreign wrought Silks and Velvets, has been found uſeful and beneficial, and it is expedient that the ſame ſhould be further continued; be it therefore enacted, That ſo much of the ſaid Act, as relates to the prohibiting the Importation of Foreign wrought Silks and Velvets, ſhall be, and the ſame is hereby further continued until the Fourteenth Day of June One thouſand eight hundred and three, and from thence to the End of the then next Seſſion of Parliament.

So much of the recited Act as relates to the prohibiting the Importation of Foreign wrought Silks and Velvets, ſhall be further continued till June 14, 1803, etc.
