

ANNO PRIMO

GEORGII IV. REGIS.

CAP. III.

An Act for the Removal of Doubts as to the Continuance of Three Acts for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in England. [6th June 1820.]

WHEREAS in the Fifty-third Year of His late Majesty's Reign an Act was passed, intituled An Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in England, which Act was to continue in force until the First Day of November One thousand eight hundred and eighteen, and thenceforth until the End of the then next Session of Parliament; and was amended by Two Acts, the one passed in the Fifty-fourth and the other in the Fifty-sixth Years of His said Majesty's Reign: And whereas the said Acts were by an Act passed in the Fifty-ninth Year of His said Majesty's Reign continued until the Expiration of Three Calendar Months after the Commencement of the then next Session of Parliament, and would, unless further continued, have expired on the Twenty-third Day of February last: And whereas before the said Twenty-third Day of February a Bill was introduced into the House of Commons for the Continuance of all Laws then in force and which would expire at the End of the then Session of Parliament, or on or before the First Day of June next, which Bill afterwards received the Royal Assent in the last Session of Parliament, and became an Act, intituled An Act to continue until the Twenty-fifth Day of June One thousand eight hundred and twenty, such Laws as may expire within a limited Period, whereby and by virtue virtue of an Act passed in the Forty-eighth Year of His said late Majesty's Reign, intituled An Act to remedy the Inconvenience which has arisen and may arise from the Expiration of Acts before the passing of Acts to continue the same, the said Three Acts passed in the said Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-sixth Years of His late Majesty's Reign, were intended to be continued until the Twenty-fifth Day of June One thousand eight hundred and twenty; but Doubts have arisen whether the said Three Acts were so continued: For Remedy therefore, be it enacted and declared by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That the said Three Acts for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in England were continued in force by the said recited Act of the last Session of Parliament, and are now in force and will remain in force until the Twenty-fifth Day of June One thousand eight hundred and twenty.
