CAP. LXXXIX.

An Act to abolish certain unnecessary Forms in the framing of Deeds in Scotland. [29th July 1856.]

'WHEREAS an Act of the Scottish Parliament was passed in the Sixth Session of the First Parliament of His Majesty King William, intituled Act allowing Securities, &c. to be written Bookways, which Act statutes and ordains that it shall be lawful to write any Contract, Decreet, Disposition, Extract, Transumpt, or other Security by way of Book, in Leaves of Paper, provided that every Page be marked by the Number, first, second, &c., and signed, and that the End of the last Page make mention how many Pages are therein contained, in which Page only Witnesses are to sign in Writs and Securities, where Witnesses are required by Law: And whereas the Safeguards prescribed by the said Act, other than the said Provision as to marking every Page by Number, have been found in Practice to be of themselves amply sufficient for the Purposes thereof, and the said Provision as to marking every Page by Number has been very generally neglected in Practice, and it would therefore be beneficial to and for the Security of the Public that the same should be abolished:' Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same,
