CAP. XVIII.

An Act to amend the Acts relating to Marriages in England and Ireland, by extending certain Provisions thereof to Persons professing with the Society of Friends called Quakers. [15th May 1860.]

'WHEREAS by an Act passed in the Session holden in the Sixth and Seventh Years of the Reign of King William the Fourth, Chapter Eighty-five, intituled An Act for Marriages in England, it was enacted, that the Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, might continue to contract and solemnize Marriage according to the Usages of the said Society, and every such Marriage was thereby declared and confirmed good in Law, provided that the Parties to such Marriage were both of the said Society; provided also, 6 & 7 W. 4. c. 85.

'also, that Notice to the Registrar should have been given, and the Registrar's Certificate 'should have issued in manner therein-after provided: And whereas by an Act passed in the 'Session holden in the Seventh and Eighth Years of the Reign of Her present Majesty, 7 & 8 Vict. c. 81. 'Chapter Eighty-one, intituled An Act for Marriages in Ireland, and for registering such 'Marriages, it was enacted, that the Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, might 'continue to contract and solemnize Marriage according to the Usages of the said Society, 'and that every such Marriage should be deemed good in Law, provided that the Parties 'to such Marriage were both of the said Society; provided also, that Notice to the Registrar 'should have been given and the Registrar's Certificate should have issued in manner therein-'after provided: And whereas it is expedient to extend and amend the said recited Pro-'visions in manner herein-after mentioned:' Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, as follows:

Marriages of Quakers may be solemnized in Cases where One only or where neither of the Parties shall be a Member of the Society of Friends, under Provisions herein named.

I. From and after the Thirtieth Day of June One thousand eight hundred and sixty Marriages may be contracted and solemnized according to the Usages of the said Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, in England and Ireland respectively, not only in the Case provided for by the said recited Provisions, but also in Cases where One only or where neither of the Parties to the Marriage shall be a Member of the said Society: Provided always, that the Party or Parties who shall not be a Member or Members of the said Society shall profess with or be of the Persuasion of the said Society; provided also, that no Person who is not a Member of the said Society shall be married according to the Usages thereof unless he or she shall be authorized thereto under or in pursuance of some General Rule or Rules of the said Society in England and Ireland respectively; and a Copy of such General Rule or Rules purporting to be signed by the Recording Clerk for the Time being of the said Society in London and in Dublin respectively shall be admitted as Evidence of such General Rule or Rules in all Proceedings touching the Validity of any such Marriage.

Enactments now in force to extend to every Marriage contracted under the Authority of this Act.

II. All the Enactments now in force, whether contained in the said recited Acts or in any other Act or Acts of Parliament, and relating to Marriages contracted and solemnized according to the Usages of the said Society in England and Ireland respectively, and to the Registration thereof, so far as the same are not inconsistent with this Act, shall extend and be applicable to every Marriage contracted and solemnized by the Authority of this Act in England and Ireland respectively, as fully and effectually as if the same Enactments were repeated herein.

CAP. XIX.
