EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

The Fertilisers and Feeding Stuffs Act, 1926, provides that a Vendor of any article sold for use as food for cattle or poultry shall, if the article is included in the Second Schedule to the Act, give to the Purchaser a written statement containing prescribed particulars of the nature, substance or quality of the article. It also provides that, if the article is sold by a name specified in the Fourth Schedule, there shall be a Warranty that the article accords with the definition contained in that Schedule. Because of the recent development in the drying of grass, various forms of dried grass are now an important animal feeding stuff. These Regulations apply the provisions of the Fertilisers and Feeding Stuffs Act, 1926, to dried grass so that a Purchaser may now obtain particulars of the quality of the article he purchases, and, if the dried grass is sold under certain specified descriptions, a Warranty that it accords with the definition set out in the Regulations.
