Under Section 26 of the Explosives Act, 1875, the fees payable in respect of licences for explosives factories and magazines shall be such as may from time to time be fixed by the Secretary of State with the consent of the Treasury, not exceeding the fees mentioned in the Third Schedule to the Act, or, if no fees are fixed, the fees mentioned in that Schedule. Fees were fixed generally, by the Notice of 1882, and further provision was made for fees for amending licences for toy firework factories by the Notice of 1884. As a result of the revocation of these Notices by this Instrument there will be no fees fixed, and the fees payable will therefore be those set out in the Third Schedule to the Act, namely, for an original factory or magazine licence, £10; for an amending licence, £5; and for renewal when lost, 5s. 0d.
