EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order.)

This Order modifies the Remuneration of Teachers (Scotland) Act 1967 for so long as Part II of the Counter-Inflation Act 1973 is in force. The Remuneration of Teachers (Scotland) Act 1967 requires the Secretary of State to give effect to recommendations for the remuneration of teachers made by a committee established under that Act or, in default of agreement in the committee, by arbiters. The Order provides for any recommendation involving increases in such remuneration to be referred to the Pay Board and requires the Secretary of State to give effect only to such recommendations as are approved by the Board. The Order also sets out the Board's procedure for dealing with such proposed increases.
